2009 Project Management Days for the Construction Sector in Madrid

The Project Management Association for the Construction industry (AEDIP), celebrated on Friday, June the 5th, the yearly event DIP 2009, at the professional association of Civil Engineers in Madrid. That event, that celebrated its ninth anniversary this year, has been recognized as “the most important annual event in project management for the Construction sector”. The motto for that event was “Project Management for infrastructure and public projects”, That annual project management event (DIP 2009) analyzed the current situation of this discipline in the construction sector and it was driven by several experts from that sector in Spain, and recognized professionals from the Public Administration like Mr. Cándido Pérez Serrano, general manager for Budget and Economic Analysis from the Community of Madrid; Ms. Rosario Luca, general secretary from Paradores Nacionales; Mr. Sebastián Mateu Bausells, architect; Mr. Javier Sobrino, Operations Director for Madrid 2016; and Mr. Miquel Bonilla, director from Instituto Catalán del Suelo (Incasol).

This event finished with a closing ceremony for the delivery of the AEDIP 2009 Prize, that celebrates its third anniversary and recognizes the best project management work developed for the Construction sector in Spain. The City of Telecommunications. Telefónica Industrial Park; Zaragoza

2008 International Exhibition; Lledoners Penitentiary; La Mola Holtel & Conference Centre; Siemens Center of Services and Technology; “Magic Badalona”; Hines Diagonal 123; Telefónica Corporative University at La Roca del Vallès and the Gran Meliá Palacio de Isora Hotel were the nine candidates that competed this year for the AEDIP 2009 Prize. The winner will be communicated by July 2009.

AEIPRO organizes the XIII Congress of Project Engineering in Badajoz (España) by next July 2009

The Graphical Expression Projects Department of Extremadura University, the Projects Engineering Spanish Association (AEIPRO) and the International Project Management Association (IPMA) would like to inform you that the 13th International Congress on Projects Engineering will be held on July 8, 9 and 10, 2009 in Badajoz, Spain.

The 13th Congress Organizing Committee, based on previous events and counting on the expertise acquired on previous congress, wishes to make this event a forum of all entities related to engineering, where professionals will take part providing their experience and activities to contribute to project engineering development as a working tool.

We would like to invite all persons potentially interested (specialists developing industrial project activities, administration, from those companies related to engineering or consulting, research entities, educational and development) to participate by sharing their knowledge and/or experience to our congress, in order to contribute to the enrichment of the project engineering world.
